Integration

Eliminate redundant data entry between any internal system and SupplyPro's® Intelligent Inventory Software. Automatically transfer information between your internal system and SupplyPort™ to make people more productive and processes more accurate.

Levels Of Integration

MANUAL INTEGRATION

Suitable for periodic or infrequent updates such as monthly transactions, product or user updates, cost accounting data, and more.

The uploader in SupplyPort includes a number of options to import or export different types of information.

Fee: Manual Integration tools are included in the SupplyPort as a standard feature.

OUTBOUND TRANSACTION INTEGRATION

Suitable for outbound transactional data only. Customize the data, organization, layout, rules and formats to match the format and structure of your internal ERP package.

Information can be transferred via FTP or HTTP and is available in a wide variety of supported file formats including:

- Delimited (comma, colon, semicolon, tab, or pipe)
- Fixed Width (user-defined column widths)
- XML (schema-validated, structured data)

Fee: Outbound Transaction Integration is $500 for a basic integration and is quoted for more complex integrations.

WEB SERVICE INTEGRATION

Web Services provide web-based API's to support machine-to-machine communication over networks. Because these API's are web-based they inherently support interaction between devices running on different architectures and speaking different native languages; such as SAP and SupplyPort, for example.

SupplyPro maintains a standard catalog of web services covering all the popular web pages.

Common uses include retrieving consumption transactions, adding new products, updating user information, etc.

Fee: Web Service Integration is quoted based on the complexity and timing of the project.

CUSTOM INTEGRATIONS

For highly customized interfaces or unique business rule requirements, SupplyPro can develop custom integrations to meet specific needs, including full-service consulting and software development to provide comprehensive integration solutions for projects of any size.

Fee: Custom Integrations are quoted based on the complexity and timing of the project.

For more information, contact your SupplyPro Territory Manager to initiate an integration project.
